SKYRA™
Professional Tableware

Hello!

We are excited to welcome you to the Skyra Professional - New Way to Buffet Catalogue 2016. It is bursting with our passion for food presentation and our capabilities in engineering and innovation.

Skyra Professional Tableware proposes products that transform foodservice to the next level. We help the food look better, smell better and taste better. Our mission is to offer Tableware that enhances the entire dining experience.

To be honest, we are just a bunch of foodies. And we are certainly not good cooks. That is why we really, really appreciate the great chefs of the world. So, we have made it our life aim to be their little elves. Our purpose to exist is to support them in their life endeavor. To help chefs serve delicious dishes. And to enable the diners of the world to eat tastier food.

We have built an ecosystem where the professional food preparation can be enhanced with our product portfolio and sustained over an extended period of time. We believe that we can happily exist if we continue doing what we are so passionate about – to hone our 58 year old heritage of experience and skills in metalworking, and engineer a better dining experience for as many people.

*Warm regards,
Raghav Khosla
Founder, Skyra Professional Tableware*

SKYRA OVERSEAS

Skyra is in the business of something new and something different. Every year, the designers at the Skyra studio meet with the industry's top chefs, F&B Directors, Caterers and Outlet owners to discuss gaps in the Tableware market. In Skyra's Annual Design Conference, concepts are ideated to address specific trends and requirements in professional F&B Service. Designs are put across Skyra's Engineering team to build the concept into a feasible mass produced item. Our engineers create prototypes, re-tune and finally launch over a 100 products each year.

Concepts such as MiniBytes, Fat Free Risers, Industrial Chic Buffet and Skyserv are some examples of collections that have been generated through Skyra's Annual Design Conference. They address industry trends such as Live Action Stations, Chafing Dish Alternatives, Single Bite Servings and Industrial Chic design. They are also built to industry requirements for modularity, stackability and durability.

SKYRA STICKY BLOCKS RISER COLLECTION

The Sticky Block is one of those simple designs that leaves one wondering “Why didn’t I think of that”! Made specifically to simplify operations, sticky block risers were conceived due to a challenge faced by a local celebrity chef - “I want elevations that are absolutely straight forward, modular and so simple to use that my ground staff will not require any training.” Bricks and Lego blocks are something we are familiar with; these foundations have been smartly converted into sleek and elegant tools for food display. These modular blocks have magnets inside and stick to one another to create a very stable and non-shaky counter.

PRODUCT CARE: ELECTROPLATED PRODUCTS

Skyra Professional Tableware has a 57 year old heritage in Electroplating finishes. It continues to lead the industry by consistently upgrading and aligning with the latest technological advancements. Skyra products are guaranteed to have the absolute highest quality in Stainless Steel based electroplating finishes.

Electroplating is as delicate as it is beautiful and should be handled with great care. Below are a few tips on how to take care of your new products.

PRODUCT CARE INSTRUCTIONS

- 1. Hand-wash the product with warm water only, after every use.*
- 2. Ensure to completely dry the product with a soft cloth after each wash.*
- 3. Cover the product in polythene (saran) wrap or cotton and store in a cool dark place. Do so only after it is completely dried.*
- 4. When the product is displaying signs of tarnish, rub with a metal polish compound and soft cloth. Silvo and Brasso are two commonly available polishing compound brands.*
- 5. For maximum shine, Buff the products with a high speed polishing machine. Using a soft ‘Airflow mop Flannel Wheel’ and standard Red Bar and Green Bar buffing polish compound, apply light pressure in ‘color motion’. A sample of an appropriate Buff wheel can be requested from Skyra for reference.*

‘DO NOT’ INSTRUCTIONS

- 1. Do not allow the electroplated surface to be in direct contact with foods (foods with ingredients) that are acidic in nature such as Vinegar and Lime. Stainless Steel food pans and liners are provided in each product to hold these types of fares.*
- 2. Do not use the product over Direct Heat/ Flame. In the case of Chafing Dishes, ensure that water is always filled in the Water Pan before placing the Chafing Fuel underneath it.*
- 3. Electroplated products are not developed for cooking. They should only be used for Front house serving.*
- 4. Do not scrub the Electroplated surface with an abrasive sponge.*
- 5. Do not use industrial detergent on the Electroplated surfaces or put into a Dish Washer.*
- 6. Do not leave the product wet as permanent water marks may stain the surface.*
- 7. Do not use Cotton Wheels with grit specification to buff the electroplated surface. If in doubt, cross-check with your Skyra relationship manager.*
- 8. Do not leave the product wet as permanent water marks may stain the surface.*
- 9. Do not use Cotton Wheels with grit specification to buff the electroplated surface. If in doubt, cross-check with your Skyra relationship manager.*

ELECTROPLATING OVERVIEW

Electroplating is an electro-chemical process through which a thin layer (up to 10 microns) of Gold, Silver, Copper, Brass, Nickel, Chrome and other metals are applied onto a Stainless Steel surface.

Most of these metals are known to react to moist air and oxidize over a period of time. The black film that is created on the topmost layer of the metal as a result of oxidization is known as ‘Tarnishing’, and is not a manufacturing defect. Tarnishing is a natural process that can be removed with the help of rubbing polish compounds, either manually or with a polishing machine.

Over a period of time, depending upon the level of usage and re-polishing, the layers of electroplating will consistently be grazed until the Stainless Steel base material is visible. At this stage, Skyra offers re-electroplating services to restore the finish to its original condition.

Please do not hesitate to contact your relationship manager for any further understanding or troubleshooting with your Skyra items. We hope you have a great product experience.
